

Topic: Broadway, Doo-Wop, and the American Dream: A Sneak Peek at Jersey Boys
Facilitator: Allison Horsley
Sessions: Tuesdays, November 11, 18, 2008
Time: 7-9 p.m.
Cost: $55 per person for both sessions

You ask four guys how it happened, you get seventeen different versions. The Tony Award-winning hit musical, Jersey Boys, tells the story of how Frankie Valli and The Four Seasons traveled from the streets of Newark, New Jersey to the Rock and Roll Hall of Fame. Don't miss this sneak peek at the hit show just weeks before it opens in Denver on December 11. Hear the story behind the story, discuss how and what to watch for in this (and other) Broadway musicals, and find out how this history-making musical is changing history.

Allison Horsley, MFA, is the dramaturg for all companies of Jersey Boys. She helped develop the script for its world premiere, and continues to educate every Jersey Boys cast on the historical and cultural context of the show. She teaches playwriting, dramaturgy, and literature as an Assistant Professor in the Department of Theatre.
