For Its

School Psychology Program at the

Specialist Level

NASP, as a specialized professional association (SPA) of the National Council for Accreditation of Teacher Education (NCATE) conducts program reviews as a part of the NCATE unit accreditation process. NASP does not accredit school psychology programs, but identifies approved programs. NCATE accredits units, not programs, but provides “national recognition” status (full or with conditions) to NASP-approved programs in NCATE-accredited units. To provide all school psychology programs with access to the NASP review process and potentially to national approval/national recognition, NASP also conducts reviews of school psychology programs that are not in NCATE units and that submit materials for review by NASP on a voluntary basis.
