

Supplemental Information for Master's in Library & Information Science (MLIS)

Law Librarianship Specialization

Morgridge College of Education Library & Information Science Program

The DU-LIS Law Librarianship specialization provides students with the knowledge, skills and abilities needed to succeed in today's specialized legal information field. Designed to combine general and subject specific competencies with experiential opportunities, the Law Librarianship specialization prepares students for work in a variety of legal information settings.

Law Librarianship Specialization

Law Specific Courses

- LIS 4204 Legal Issues in Information Organizations (3 credits)
- LIS 4374 Legal Reference & Resources (3 credits)
- LIS 4750 Legal Research I (3 credits)
- LIS 4751 Legal Research II (3 credits)
- LIS 4756 Legal Databases Research (3 credits)

MLIS Core

- LIS 4000 Understanding Information Organizations (3 credits)
- LIS 4010 Organization of Information (3 credits)
- LIS 4011 Information Access & Retrieval (3 credits)
- LIS 4020 Principles of Ethics (3 credits)
- LIS 4030 The Information Environment (3 credits)
- LIS 4060 Reference (3 credits)
- LIS 4070 Cataloging (3 credits)
- LIS 4240 Knowledge Management (3 credits)
- LIS 4910 Practicum (4 credits)
- QRM 4910 Educational Research & Measurement (4 credits)

Recommended Electives

- LIS 4101 Information Science (3 credits)
- LIS 4200 Information in Organizations (3 credits)
- LIS 4202 Introduction to Knowledge Technologies (3 credits)
- LIS 4330 Library Instruction (3 credits)
- LIS 4362 Government Publications (2 credits)
- LIS 4805 Advanced Records Management (3 credits)

To speak to someone about the Law Librarianship specialization, please call or email our Admissions Office at 303-871-2509 or 1-800-835-1607, edinfo@du.edu.