ELIGIBILITY

GPA: 2.5
6 quarters of college-level French
Enrollment is limited.

This program includes the following opportunities:

Internships Service Learning Community/Field Study Research Community Service

CALENDAR

FALL SEMESTER : AUGUST—DECEMBER
SPRING SEMESTER: JANUARY—MAY

PROGRAM

Gain hands-on experience by participating in a community internship, while learning about international development and taking Wolof language courses. This highly experiential program is a good fit for students who are interested in gaining a deeper understanding of Senegal's culture and development issues through field experience.

ACADEMICS

The semester program consists of four courses: Wolof Language, International Development: Critical Perspectives on Theory and Practice; MSID Country Analysis; and Community Engagement in the Global South through which students engage in an internship or research project. All classes are with program participants and are taught by local faculty in French. Students have the opportunity to discuss the complex nature of development as realized in Senegal.

*Program Pending Agreement

COST

Billed by DU:

- DU Tuition
- DU Technology Fee
- Study Abroad Housing
- Study Abroad Meals

Non-Cherrington Scholars will be charged a $50 application fee.

LOCATION: DAKAR, SENEGAL

Dakar (pop. 2.5 million in the metropolitan area) is Senegal's largest city and its capital. It is located on the Atlantic coast and is well known for its culture, arts, and music. Students may live elsewhere in the country during the internship/ research phase of the program.

HOUSING & MEALS

Homestays are an integral part of the MSID experience. You will live with and share most meals with at least one family and possibly with two different families – one during the classroom phase and a second in a different part of the country during the remainder of the program. Students with internships in the main city typically choose to remain with the same family throughout.

CULTURAL CONNECTIONS

Throughout the classroom portion of the program, students will visit a variety of sites that may include local markets, non-governmental organizations, farms, factories, and potential internship sites.
