

Meet Megan Stokke, MA candidate in International Development and Certificate in Global Health Affairs

Education

MA, International Development and MBA, 2010
BA, Human Development, Warner Pacific College
Portland, Oregon, USA

Program

Master of Arts in International Development with a Certificate in Global Health Affairs

Experience

Traveled to Tanzania for the "Go Tanzania" course through the University of Denver's Daniels College of Business

Goals

Work in the private sector for an aid organization in global health and eventually open up a health clinic in a developing country where there would be a focus on teaching basic health procedures as a way to increase the number of people who can receive health care.

"I wanted a program that was broad enough so I could be exposed to different classes but still concentrate on my specific interests. It's great to connect with like-minded people and form relationships that will span our professional careers. The opportunities are here to get connected in a wide range of interests; it would be hard to not be able to find something you're interested in."

--by Nirvana Bhatia, MA candidate in International Human Rights, Josef Korbel School of International Studies