Definition of COI: Under the Policy, a conflict of Interest (COI) arises when an employee, or related party has a significant financial interest in an outside funding source, which interest could directly and significantly affect decision making in the design, conduct, or reporting of externally funded instruction, research, or service activities performed on behalf of the University.

Significant Financial Interest: means anything of monetary value (or potential monetary value), whether or not the value is readily ascertainable, including but not limited to: salary or other payments for services (e.g., consulting fees, honoraria, or paid authorships for other than scholarly works); any equity interests (e.g., stocks, stock options or other ownership interests); and intellectual property rights and interests (e.g., patents, trademarks, service marks) upon receipt of royalties or other income related to such intellectual property rights and interests.

Financial interest also includes any reimbursed or sponsored travel undertaken by the Investigator and related to his/her institutional responsibilities. This includes travel that is paid on behalf of the Investigator as well as travel that is reimbursed, even if the exact monetary value is not readily available.

Significant Financial Interest does not include:

- (1) Salary, royalties, or other remuneration from the applicant institution;
- (2) Income from authorship of academic or scholarly works;
- (3) Income from seminars, lectures, or teaching engagements sponsored by or from advisory committees or review panels from public or non-profit entities;
- (4) Equity interests or income from investment vehicles, such as mutual funds and retirement accounts, so long as the Employee does not directly control the investment decisions made in these vehicles.
- (5) Travel reimbursed or sponsored by public or non-profit entities

- (6) Salary, royalties or other payments that when aggregated for the Investigator and the Investigator's spouse and dependent children over the preceding twelve months that did not exceed $5,000.
