

Illustration of Bialik's Silence by Yael Albert

October 21,
2015

2:00-3:30 p.m.

Sturm Hall 286

2000 E. Asbury Ave.

Denver, CO, 80210

Bialik: Modern Hebrew Poet of Memory & Hope

with Visiting Scholar, Dr. Rachel Korazim

An intensive seminar featuring Visiting Scholar, Dr. Rachel Korazim, freelance education consultant specializing in Israel and Holocaust education (Ph.D., Jewish Education, University of Haifa)

Hayim Nahman Bialik (1873 – 1934) is a pioneer of modern Hebrew poetry recognized as Israel's national poet. Come join us for a lively 90-minute seminar exploring some of his work on the complex interrelated themes of loss, hope, identity, memory and redemption.

For more information, visit: www.du.edu/ahss/cjs or email the Center for Judaic Studies at cjs@du.edu

To learn about other learning opportunities with Dr. Korazim, Oct. 21-23, please visit: www.jccdenver.org

Presented by the Center for Judaic Studies at the University of Denver and the Jewish Community Center, as part of the Denver Jewish Learning Collaborative
Co-Sponsored by Colorado Agency for Jewish Education