AMERICA'S FOUNDERS
IN SICKNESS AND IN HEALTH

Jeanne E. Abrams, PhD

Monday, March 24th from Noon–1pm
Fulginiti Pavilion for Bioethics & Humanities

Learn about the lives of George and Martha Washington, Benjamin Franklin, Thomas Jefferson, John and Abigail Adams, and Dolley Madison. In contrast to the usual lens of politics, their stories are told from the unique perspective of sickness, health, and disease in their era, opening a window into the practice of medicine in the 18th century.
