LANCE CLEM INTERNSHIP AWARD

Summer 2018

_A competitive scholarship to support internship registration and/or travel costs for undergraduate students in MFJS majors_

Deadline for Summer 2018: May 15th

We are pleased to announce the Lance Clem Summer Internship Award, which provides funding for internship registration and/or travel for selected MFJS students. With this award, we can provide funding to cover the registration costs for one _4-credit internship_ and one _2-credit internship_ (a student who receives 2-credit funding may still choose to do a 4-credit internship, and pay the remaining), and will be able to provide up to $1500 for internship related travel costs.

To apply:
- Be an undergraduate student in one of the MFJS majors and be _eligible_ to do an internship for credit;
- Fill out the attached Award Application and include it with your submission materials;
- Write a 900 to 1000-word essay explaining how this internship will be beneficial to your personal and professional growth (see more, below);
- Provide an offer letter or email from the internship site;
- Turn in your Application, Essay and Offer Letter by 5pm on May 15, 2018 [materials can either be emailed as attachments to MFJSinternships@du.edu or turned in via hardcopy to the mailbox of Professor Erika Polson, in the main office of the MFJS building.

Schedule:
- Applications due: 5pm on May 15th
- Notification of award: May 18th
- If you are selected for a Clem Internship Award, you must _register your internship_ for course credit (MFJS 3980) by June 15, 2018 in order to receive the funds.

Selection Criteria:
- GPA
- Essay Quality: essay should eloquently link the internship opportunity with your major and your professional and personal goals, and must communicate the significance of this financial award in relation to your ability to pursue the internship opportunity
- The prestige of the internship is taken into consideration for this award.