University of Denver's Media, Film & Journalism Studies Newsletter

From Abroad to the Classroom: How MFJS 3440 Shapes Reentry to the US

Two students discuss the ways that their experiences with the Global & Multicultural Campaigns course provided a way for each of them to readjust after Study Abroad experiences. In turn, they found that their international experiences increased their appreciation for and comprehension of this course’s content.

Learn More

MFJS Students on to MA, PhD Programs

This spring we feature three almost-graduates who will be going on to prominent universities across the US this fall to earn Master’s degrees or PhDs in their chosen fields of study. As a department we are so proud of their accomplishments and the accomplishments of their fellow graduates, and cannot wait to see where life takes them.

Learn More

Sanctity at DU for its Muslim Students?

In November, our Multicultural Journalism students course published a special issue of the Clarion focused on the racial climate at DU. MA in International and Intercultural Communication student Kara Roberts reported on the campus climate with respect to its Muslim students.

Learn More

CHAIR’S CORNER

Spring 2018

We were honored to be recognized at this spring’s University Pioneer Awards as the Community Engaged Department of the Year.

Learn more

FACULTY SPOTLIGHT

Renée Botta

STAY CONNECTED

- MFJS Calendar
- MFJS Website
- The Estlow Center
- Internship Opportunities
In her 15 years at DU, Associate Professor Renée Botta has filled multiple roles in MFJS—including department chair and graduate director—and currently teaches a variety of communication classes in the department. The area of health communication is one of her specialties.

ALUMNI SPOTLIGHT
Frazer Lockhart
This year's Alumni Service to AHSS Award was presented to MFJS alum Frazer Lockhart (BA ‘11), a former film major and one of the alumni mentors of Project DU F.I.L.M. The award is presented to an Arts, Humanities, and Social Sciences alum “who has made significant contributions to the liberal arts at the University of Denver.”

MFJS SHOWCASE
Students and faculty continue to achieve
MFJS students, faculty, and alumni are up to some exciting things. Read more about our recent achievements.

FEATURED STORY
Mobile and Social: MFJS Professors attend the first "Mobile Socialities" Symposium in Lund, Sweden
In April, Professors Lynn Schofield Clark, Erika Polson, and Carlos Jimenez traveled to Lund University in Sweden to be a part of a two-day research workshop on how our understandings of the relationships between technologies and social structures are changing in the era of mobile media.

FEATURED STORY
Congratulations to our 2018 Student Award Recipients
These students have gone above and beyond in their work and their studies, and we commend them for their academics and their support of our department.

FEATURED EVENT
Real News Day
On April 27, DU and MFJS hosted Real News Day, a celebration of journalists and journalism in Denver and nationally featuring events at the Colorado State Capitol, DU, and the Denver Press Club. Washington Post reporter Kimberly Kindy was present to receive this year’s Estlow Center Anvil of Freedom Award.

UPCOMING EVENT
InShort Narrative Film Showcase
Join us Thursday, June 7 for this year’s InShort Student Film Showcase, featuring our film students’ narrative short films. The event begins with a reception at 6:30 p.m. followed by the screening at 7:30 p.m.
University of Denver
2199 S. University Blvd,
Denver, CO 80208
To manage your email preferences, click here