University of Denver's Media, Film & Journalism Studies Newsletter

Fall 2018

On the Set of Scary Lucy

If someone had told me two years ago when I had first decided to study film that my first filmmaking experience would be on the set of Scary Lucy, I wouldn't have believed them.
Learn More

Students Complete Summer Internships Across the US

Hear from three MFJS students about their internship experiences during Summer 2018.
Learn More

Colorado Media Project: Bringing Local News Back to the Locals

In an age of declining trust in news and an overreliance on social media, news -- especially local news -- around the country has been suffering. The Colorado Media Project was formed to find out what's happening, why, and how local news can move forward.
Learn More

CHAIR'S CORNER
Fall 2018
It's been a busy year at MFJS!
Learn more

FACULTY SPOTLIGHT
Lauren J. DeCarvalho
Dr. Lauren J. DeCarvalho, an assistant professor in the department of Media, Film and Journalism Studies, began working for the University of Denver this fall. She currently

STAY CONNECTED
- MFJS Calendar
- MFJS Website
- The Estlow Center
- Internship Opportunities
- Graduate Programs
- Undergraduate Programs
teaches Introduction to Film Criticism and Experimental Film/Video Theory and Production.

ALUMNI SPOTLIGHT

Vincent De La Torre

Vincent De La Torre (BA '13) is not afraid to address the hard issues. His film, Trails of Hope and Terror, a project that spanned seven years, discusses the reasoning behind and the politics surrounding immigration, and seeks to unravel the historical events that have led to its current state.

MFJS SHOWCASE

Students and faculty continue to achieve

MFJS students, faculty, and alumni are up to some exciting things. Read more about our recent achievements.

FEATURED STORY

Inclusive Excellence at DU: From Past to Present

DU cares deeply about the well-being of its students, and it strives to create the best environment for students to not only receive a higher-level education in a variety of fields, but to also grow and develop as people. Although this has always been a goal of the University, the administration has recently made some very significant steps towards this ideal environment.

FEATURED STORY

Denver Through My Eyes Brings Youth Voice to City Officials

High school and junior high aged students often wish that political decisionmakers would just listen to them. And some political decisionmakers say they would like to hear more often from young people. So, a group of faculty from DU decided to create a way for this to happen.

FEATURED EVENT

Estlow Center Anvil of Freedom Lecture 2018-2019

On October 1 and 2, the Ed and Charlotte Estlow International Center for Journalism and New Media and the Department of Media, Film and Journalism Studies welcome Alexander Heffner to campus for the 26th anniversary Anvil of Freedom Lecture.

UPCOMING EVENT

Documenting the World documentary film speaker series

Join us throughout the 2018-2019 academic year for discussions with our documentary filmmaking alumni.

SHARE YOUR NEWS

Tell us about your career and personal accomplishments, awards, life events or whatever else is keeping you busy. Share your news with fellow MFJS or IIC alumni by submitting a note to MFJS@du.edu.

Make sure to follow us on Facebook and Twitter to catch all the latest on our alumni, students, and faculty!

SPEAKER SERIES UPDATE

Due to unforeseen scheduling conflicts, the session of the Documenting the World alumni speaker series featuring Joe Brown has been postponed and will be rescheduled for later this year.

On Tuesday, November 13 we will now be featuring Roma Sur (MA '03) and Jessica McGaugh for "Immigrants, Dance, and Documentary: Three Worlds One Stage."

Find out more about the new event and register here.
University of Denver
2199 S. University Blvd.
Denver, CO 80208
To manage your email preferences, click here