ABOUT US: New Era Colorado is a nonprofit, nonpartisan organization working to build a more accessible democracy that more accurately reflects and engages the millennial generation. Our goal is to bring young people into the political process through civic engagement, leadership development, and issue advocacy. New Era has registered, educated and turned out tens of thousands of young voters, and passed forward-thinking policies that make elections more accessible and make tangible change on issues that impact young people. We’re working to change our state for the better, and we need you to help us make that happen.

ABOUT THE PROGRAM: Our spring program is focused on training young people to be effective and inclusive community leaders through weekly classroom sessions and on-the-ground fieldwork. Through building, advancing, and leading grassroots campaigns, interns make a real difference in the lives of young people through policy & some serious time spent in Colorado’s Capitol. We pair classroom training with serious fieldwork so interns can make a tangible impact on issues facing millennials today — like student debt and climate change.

WHAT TO EXPECT
● Gain valuable leadership skills through a mix of classroom sessions and hands-on field work.
● Participate in local & state-level grassroots campaigns.
● Organize to make an impact on student debt and college affordability.
● Recruit and train volunteers to advocate for issues like putting an end to the crippling student debt many of us face.
● Build a strong community of friends and allies that you’ll work with in the future.
● Explore your strengths and weaknesses as a leader.
● Register young voters and learn best practices for voter registration.
● Grow personally and professionally through intentional feedback from your supervisor & fellow interns, classroom trainings and self-reflection.

TO APPLY
neweracolorado.org/intern2016
The program starts February 1, so hurry on over!
PS: We’re looking for enthusiastic, passionate people—no experience necessary!
Get in touch with Chelsea@NewEraColorado.org with questions.

We welcome applications from all, and strongly encourage women, people of color, people with disabilities, immigrants, refugees and members of the LGBTQ community to apply.