

Investing in Discovery

With a keen understanding of rigorous and high impact methods for community engagement, we advance scholarship and creative work that is rooted in mutually beneficial relationships with community partners. By working alongside community partners the application and outcomes of our work are both far-reaching and sustainable.

Public Good Fund

The Public Good Fund is funded annually by the Office of the Provost to support faculty engaged in innovative community-engaged research projects.

Student Research

CCESL supports student research through a number of avenues including as a placement site for research internships and through the Undergraduate Research & Scholarship Symposium.

Faculty Projects

CCESL offers DU faculty a variety of ways to get involved with community-engaged learning and projects.
