

Assistant Vice Chancellors

Assistant Vice Chancellors can be appointed to lead large or complex departments within a division. The Assistant VC title is appropriate when the function they manage is responsible for key initiatives that generally have a University wide impact. The Assistant Vice Chancellor reports directly to a Vice Chancellor.

Assistant Vice Chancellors generally have responsibility for stewardship of resources. A key requirement for these positions is alignment of departmental goals with overall University strategies. Assistant Vice Chancellors represent their areas on cross-functional teams and often will have responsibility for external relations with appropriate groups and stakeholders.

To ensure consistency in the creation and appointment of positions at this level, a recommendation from the appropriate Vice Chancellor member must take place with final review and approval from the Vice Chancellor of Human Resources.
