Presentation Skills Options

We have a number of presentation skills training/feedback options for anyone trying to improve their public speaking abilities. The following list is in no specific order:

1. DU Speaks: This is DU’s Toastmasters Club, made up of staff, faculty, students, and community members (on occasion). The club meets every-other Thursday from 12-1pm in Margery Reed 119. This is more of a long-term solution for those that want to evolve into an exceptional speaker by becoming an active member. The Toastmasters experience also includes leadership development and meeting management abilities. For more information, go to this URL: https://www.du.edu/human-resources/people-development/professional-development/toastmasters.html.

2. Lynda.com: Lynda.com offer exceptional online courses that include public speaking. Specifically,
   - Public Speaking Foundations,
   - Overcoming Your Fear of Public Speaking

3. One-on-One Coaching: Greg Giesen from the People Development team in HRIC is our presentation skills coach. He is a former manager with Toastmasters International and a national keynoter himself. Greg can work one-on-one with anyone preparing for a presentation as well as review and evaluate a presentation.

4. Additional resources include some YouTube tips that are available on the People Development (HRIC) website on presentation skills. YouTube has many excerpts from presentation skills coaches and instructors as well.

5. Presentation Skills Basic: Greg Giesen from People Development offers a 1-hour class on the Top 10 Presentation Skills to delivering a great speech. This is simply an informative presentation. The best option is to join DU Speaks Toastmasters Club so you can practice. Presentation Skills Basic will be help on Wednesday, December 4th, 2018 from 3-4pm in Margery Reed 203.
