

International Student and Scholar Services would like to share a message for you from the housing platform, Housing Anywhere. Please see below.

Dear student,

We are looking forward to welcoming you at University of Denver this fall.

Since finding accommodation can be very challenging, we encourage you to find a room before your arrival.

To help you with that, University of Denver joined the network www.HousingAnywhere.com the international student housing platform. On the platform you can search and book rooms offered by our outgoing students, as well as other rooms listed by verified private landlords in our city.

In order to be identified as a DU student, please fill in this Sign-Up Form you will then receive a link to activate your "Partner Student" profile, which will give you priority access to the rooms available, live notifications and personalized assistance.

Booking a room on Housing Anywhere is 100% safe and scam-free thanks to a Secure Booking System: the first month's rent is paid to Housing Anywhere and will be transferred to the advertiser 48 hours after you move in, and only if the room corresponds exactly to what you agreed to book. Otherwise, you will be eligible for a full refund. This way you can comfortably book a room in Denver even months before your arrival. Housing Anywhere charges a small administrative fee for this service.
