INTERNATIONAL WORKSHOP
CENTER FOR CHINA-US COOPERATION, UNIVERSITY OF DENVER

Has China Found a Unique Path of Modernization: The China Model Revisited
May 1, 2015

TENTATIVE AGENDA

9:20-9:40 am  CHECK-IN
Renaissance Room, Mary Reed Building
2199 S. University Boulevard, Denver, CO 80208

9:40-10:00 am  Opening Remarks
Suisheng Zhao, Director, Center for China-US Cooperation, DU
Christopher R. Hill, Dean, Josef Korbel School of International Studies, DU

10:00-12:00 pm  PANEL ONE
“Militarism and the Chinese Model: A Policy Network”
Christopher R. Hughes, Head of the International Relations Department
London School of Economics

Discussants:
Edward Friedman, University of Wisconsin

“The Co-Evolution of Economic and Political Institutions in Reform China”
Barry Naughton, Professor, University of California, San Diego

Discussants:
Scott Kennedy, Center for Strategic and International Studies

12:00-1:00 pm  LUNCH

1:00-3:00 pm  PANEL TWO
"Illiberal and Instrumental Legalism 2.0: Law's Role in the 'China Model' in the Xi Jinping Era"
Jacques deLisle, Stephen A. Cozen Professor of Law, the University of Pennsylvania

Discussants:
Joseph Fewsmith, Boston University

“The Struggle for Law and Order in the China Model”
Dali Yang, Professor, Department of Political Science, University of Chicago

Discussants:
Margaret M. Pearson, University of Maryland

3:00-3:05 pm  CONCLUSION REMARKS