The MA in Conflict Resolution is a distinct interdisciplinary graduate program within the Conflict Resolution Institute that operates independently, but is still under the umbrella of the Josef Korbel School of International Studies. The program will provide you with a balanced, multi-disciplinary study of conflict resolution across theoretical perspectives, in addition to exploring case studies and practical applications of bargaining strategies. The degree is focused on moving conflict presentation and escalation to solution by emphasizing processes of behavior used to assist in this transformation. It will prepare students to guide disputing parties to mutually acceptable positions by building relationships of trust. If you want to pursue a career as a mediator, manager, trainer, or counselor within the public, private, or non-profit sectors, then the Conflict Resolution degree is for you.

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Time Commitment and Format</th>
<th>Start Date</th>
<th>Credits</th>
<th>Thesis</th>
<th>Internship</th>
<th>Foreign Language Proficiency</th>
<th>Degree Director</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>15 months, full-time</td>
<td>September or January</td>
<td>60</td>
<td>Optional</td>
<td>Required</td>
<td>Not Required</td>
<td>Karen A. Feste, PhD kfeste@du.edu</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

DEGREE REQUIREMENTS

Core Curriculum: Dive into a set of robust courses that provide a broad introduction with concepts and theories, research emphasis and practical techniques. Required core courses are:

- Conflict Resolution
- Negotiation Theory & Practice
- Mediation Theory & Issues
- Conciliation & Reconciliation
- Communication & Collaboration
- Organizational Dynamics

Practical & Professional Techniques: You will learn how to apply mediation processes in a practical setting and be exposed to the skills, values and norms needed. Required classes include:

- Topics in Applied Communication
- Professional Development

Methodology Training: Through the required course, Reflective Practice and Evaluation, you will learn how to conduct conflict assessments, how to structure an investigation of conflict resolution issues and how to analyze data.

Specialization/Special Topics requirement: These courses will expose you to the diversity of conflict resolution topics and innovations in the field, whether in new theoretic approaches or practical applications. Examples of special topics courses:

- Intractable Conflict
- Negotiation Difficulties
- Creating Agreement
- Restorative Justice
- Managing Organizational Conflict
- Resolving Public Issues
- Grant Writing
INTERNSHIPS
Conflict Resolution students have had internships across the United States and abroad. Conflict Resolution graduate students have participated in Colorado internships at: Mediators Beyond Borders, Resolution Works, Victim Offender Reconciliation Programs, Singleton Strategies, the Conflict Center, Oval Options, Colorado State University and the DU Office of Student Conduct. Others had internships in New York (The Peace Institute), Oregon (Mercy Corps), Wisconsin (Department of Transportation), and Tennessee (Bridge Builders). Some students went abroad for an internship experience—to Rwanda, the Republic of Georgia, Trinidad and Tobago, Israel, and China.

PRACTICUM
The practicum is designed for students to bring together theory with practice—to experience how to apply academic ideas to social conflicts in order to resolve problems. It is divided into two sections—a basic practicum where all students are together, which runs for roughly half of the 15 weeks at the start, and an advanced practicum where students are divided into groups depending on their specific interests. In recent years, we have focused on Interpersonal, Environmental, Public Policy, and International substantive areas, usually selecting no more than three of them at any time.

CAREERS
Graduates of the Josef Korbel School’s MA in Conflict Resolution degree have pursued careers within a variety of fields. Examples of where our alumni are working include: The Peace Institute, Mercy Corps and Department of Transportation.

APPLICATION MATERIALS
- Application
- Application fee ($65 online fee)
- One official transcript from each higher education institution you have attended (including English translations when applicable). Send transcripts in an official, sealed envelope bearing an official stamp from the Registrar’s Office across the envelope’s seal.
- Official GRE test scores (University of Denver code is: 4842)
- Two letters of recommendation
- Statement of Purpose (500-750 words)
  - Explain why you have chosen to pursue a graduate degree in Conflict Resolution and how the degree program will prepare you to reach your specific career goals.
- Resume

International Students
- Financial Verification Form and Supplement for International Applicants
- TOEFL scores (non-native English speakers; University of Denver code is 4842)

CLASS PROFILE
Each year approximately 180 students enroll in master’s programs at the Josef Korbel School.
Average GRE Scores:
  - Verbal: 157
  - Quantitative: 151
Average GPA: 3.41
Average Age: 26 years
Age Range: 21-54
Average Class size: 20

Females: 55%  Males: 45%
Non-US Students: 10.6%
Citizenships represented: 27

APPLY TODAY
du.edu/korbel or 303.871.2544

Rev. 9.20.17