Title: Research Assistant

Program/Office: Program on Terrorism and Insurgency Research at the Sié Center

Location: Sié Center

Description: The Program on Terrorism and Insurgency Research at Sié Chéou-Kang Center for International Security and Diplomacy is a research program dedicated to enhancing public knowledge about political violence—its causes, dynamics, consequences, and alternatives. The Program supports a number of research projects under the direction of Dr. Erica Chenoweth. Currently, the Program is seeking Research Assistants for the "GATE Canada" project to collect and code data, write research reports, and perform other responsibilities as assigned. The Government Actions in Terror Environments (GATE) data project is a multi-institutional effort to collect and code data on state action toward terrorist organizations or their constituencies in select countries. RA's hired per this announcement will be focused on Canada.

Candidates must be proficient in MS Word and MS Excel, have exceptional internet research skills, and be comfortable learning and using new technology. Candidates should be able to work independently, but also enjoy working in an office environment with others.
