

Small Biz Boot Camp for Entrepreneurs, Freelancers, Clinicians and Non-Profit Innovators

Greg Giesen

Greg "Geese" Giesen is an award-winning author, leadership coach, trainer and one of the most sought-after speakers in the country on authentic leadership. With over 25 years of experience in corporate consulting, training, facilitation and conflict mediation, Greg has brought his wide array of skills to corporate and non-profit industries across the country. Currently, as Manager of Employee Development at the University of Denver, he helps faculty, staff and departments assess, address and resolve workplace issues. Greg is also a graduate school professor at DU and the author of three books on Creating Authenticity, including his latest, Mondays at 3: A Story for Managers Learning to Lead. For the past 18 years, Greg has been leading and facilitating the award-winning program, Leading from Within, an indoor/outdoor experiential leadership and personal empowerment workshop.

Center for
PROFESSIONAL DEVELOPMENT

