Synopsis:

In the evening on March 22, 2019, a student reported being sexually assaulted in an on-campus residence hall by an unidentified suspect after receiving and consuming a drink believed to contain an unknown drug. The incident was reported to have occurred between 10:30am and 3:30p.m on this same date, March 22, 2019.

The student has requested to not proceed with a criminal investigation at this time and the University is respecting their decision. In response to this incident, the Division of Campus Safety is providing information regarding sexual assaults and this alert as mandated by federal law. This information is general in nature, and has no relation to this specific incident.

The victim has been provided resources for law enforcement reporting.

Description of Suspects: Unknown

Sexual assault is never the fault of the victim. While nothing is failsafe, here are some items that everyone should consider:

- Perpetrators choose victims for their vulnerability, not how they look or act. Sexual assault is a crime of hostility and violence toward the victim. People often engage in victim blaming. It is a way to preserve the false belief that they will be safe from sexual assault "if only" they do not do what the victim did. However, sexual assault is never the victim's fault. Only the perpetrator chooses to commit sexual assault.
- Be active in supporting a safe and respectful community. If you see others engaging in disrespectful or inappropriate actions, speak up and get involved, or contact someone else to assist.
- If you would like more information about how to be an active bystander, please participate in "Intervene".
- Forcing sexual contact on another person without consent is against the law and against university policy. Someone who is passed out, unconscious or incapacitated because of drugs or alcohol is unable to give consent. Sex without consent is sexual assault. Sexual assault is never the victim's fault.
- Trust your instincts. If you feel uneasy or sense something is wrong, call for help.
