I. INTRODUCTION

A. The University values constituents’ preferences in receiving information and messages. This includes messages to mobile devices through Text Messaging.

B. The University will use Text Messaging to effectively communicate while being a good steward of information, respecting the privacy and wishes of the recipients, and adhering to applicable state and federal laws, including but not limited to the Telephone Consumer Protection Act.

C. Text Messaging may be used by authorized University officials to relay important and time sensitive information such as Emergency Notifications, campus closures, academic deadlines, and notices critical to student academic success.

D. This Policy addresses non-emergency Mass Text Messaging that include notifications and information from authorized offices.

II. POLICY OVERVIEW

A. The Division of Marketing and Communication (MarComm) is the authority for approving and facilitating communication planning for the purpose of using Mass Text Messaging.

   1. All Communication Plans for Mass Text Messaging (other than Emergency Notifications issued by Campus Safety) must be approved by MarComm prior to gaining access to the University Text Messaging platform.

   2. Any other use of the University Text Messaging platform by unauthorized units or personnel is prohibited.

B. Emergency Notifications are managed by Campus Safety and must be sent through the University-approved emergency notification system.

III. PROCESS OVERVIEW

A. The University is obligated to protect students’ personally identifiable data and contact information that is not public directory information. See Office of the Registrar, Privacy/FERPA.

B. Individuals must opt in for receipt of Text Messaging so that their personal details held by the University are updated with any changes to their mobile phone number.

C. University officials sending text messages pursuant to an approved Communications Plan are responsible for confirming that:
   1. the message is personalized
   2. the message is valid
   3. the wording is appropriate
   4. content is relevant to the intended audience
   5. the recipient list is correct and limited to the targeted population
   6. the message must not contain confidential or restricted information. Additional details on data classifications can be found in University Policy IT 13.10.051 - Data Classification.
   7. the content of message is timely and actionable

D. Text Messaging must not be used:
   1. as the sole means of communicating an essential message or announcement.
   2. For personal matters e.g., items for sale, farewell messages
   3. to promote the sale of products or services

E. All Mass Text Messages must be tagged with the appropriate identifier (e.g., school, administrative office) so that the recipients of the text can see immediately where it originated.

F. The University official responsible for sending the Text Message(s) must monitor all replies to text messages and respond appropriately.

G. Non-emergency Mass Text Messages must be sent through the University-approved texting system.

IV. DEFINITIONS

A. “Emergency Notifications” means a notification of a crisis and/or emergency, or significant disruptions to University operations, including activities which pose a threat to public safety, as determined by the Director of Campus Safety or his/her designee.
B. “Mass Text Messaging” or “Text Messaging” for purposes of this Policy means non-emergency messaging that includes notifications and information from authorized offices sent to a predetermined group of persons with whom the sender is not in direct, personal contact on a regular basis.
