Join us for an evening panel discussion and hands-on workshop with industry leaders exploring how professional judgment, accountability, and values show up in real AI use. Participants will leave with something they've built, grounded in who they are as professionals.

Hosted by Daniels MBA Programs and the DU Center for Ethical Artificial Intelligence, and facilitated by Susan Adams, founder of Women in AI Colorado, and Thom Gulino, senior instructional designer at Daniels College of Business.

Heavy appetizers and beverages will be served. Parking available for all registrants.
