Please note the following:

- Tenure-line and research faculty from DU, including those outside the student's program, are automatically eligible to serve on committees if the subject is appropriate to their field of expertise
Faculty with other designations (e.g., clinical, teaching, professor of the practice) are eligible to serve as voting members of the committee if they have been actively involved in research and scholarship in a relevant field and hold the research doctorate, terminal degree in the field, or equivalent record of research, scholarship, or achievement appropriate for the program. The faculty member's CV should be submitted to the dean or designee for approval.
Individuals from other institutions may serve as voting members (not director) of the committee if they hold a tenure-track or research faculty position in a relevant field at a university or research position in a National Laboratory. Others, if approved by the dean or designee. No more than one committee member can come from outside of DU
