Why say "Happy Holidays"?

Because between November 1st 2018 and January 15th 2019, common calendar, the world’s major religions observe at least 29 different holidays, among other cultural festivals and events. Christmas (12/25) is a big one, among many.

- Mawlid al-Nabi (Islam) 12/1
- Hannukkah (Judaism) 12/2 - 12/10
- Birth of Baha'u'llah (Baha'i) 11/9-11/10
- Epiphany (Christian) 1/6
- Bodhi Day (Buddhism) 1/24
- Las Posadas (Mexican & Mexican American) 12/16 - 12/24
- Kwanzaa (US & West African Diaspora) 12/26-1/1
- Pancha Ganapati (Modern Hindu) 12/21-12/25
- Zarathosht Diso (Zoroastrianism) 12/26
- Solstice/ Yule (Wiccan, Pagan, northern hemisphere) 12/21-1/1
- Birth of Baha'u'llah (Baha'i) 11/9-11/10
- Epiphany (Christian) 1/6
- Bodhi Day (Buddhism) 1/24
- Las Posadas (Mexican & Mexican American) 12/16 - 12/24
- Kwanzaa (US & West African Diaspora) 12/26-1/1
- Pancha Ganapati (Modern Hindu) 12/21-12/25
- Zarathosht Diso (Zoroastrianism) 12/26
- Solstice/ Yule (Wiccan, Pagan, northern hemisphere) 12/21-1/1

Especially if you don't know whether/ what someone celebrates, "Happy Holidays" is more accurate, inclusive, and simple.