Moms & Grandmoms Weekends of the past have included Tea at the Brown Palace, Ski Bus to a mountain resort, and Chocolate Tasting. Who knows what we will have in store for you. Check our events page in November (don't worry, I'll remind you) and we will have more details.

The dates of Moms & Grandmoms Weekend have been changed from our previously announced dates which included only Friday and Saturday. Sunday has been added to the schedule due to requests from prior Moms & Grandmoms Weekend attendees. Events on Sunday will end in the early afternoon to allow for travel. Hope to see you there!

Presentations from Parent & Family Orientation

Partnering on your Pioneer's APPventure was presented at Parent & Family Orientation a couple of weeks ago. Campus administrators discussed how parents, families, and guardians can be effective partners in their student's transition into college. Also provided was a presentation that delivered information about Academic Resources and academic support.

Booking Flights for Winter Break

Fall quarter finals are scheduled to end on Thursday, Nov 20th. Before booking a flight for your student to return home for winter break, ask them to look over the syllabus for each of their classes to find out when they will have their last final exam. Some students may finish exams earlier than others, which could give you some flexibility with scheduling a flight home and choosing the best possible fare. Some students may have final exams on the 20th and may not want to fly home until the morning of Nov 21st. Residence halls are scheduled to close at 9am on Nov 21st. It is best to make travel arrangements with your student far in advance of the end of the quarter. They will get very busy at that time and getting a return text of "K" can be pretty frustrating when you're trying to book a flight.
Registration is open for Homecoming & Family Weekend

Come back to our beautiful campus this fall to reconnect to the DU family, renew your ties to classmates, meet other parents and welcome our new chancellor. Celebrate our sesquicentennial year with an all-class reunion, athletic events, sessions just for parents, Taste of DU, PioneerFest and much, much more. Register today!
