

Chicago Manual of Style: Author-Date System

For additional help, see the Chicago Manual of Style, 16th ed., the official CMS website (chicagomanualofstyle.org), its Quick Guide page (...style.org/tools_citationguide), or visit the University Writing Center.

Introduction to the Author-Date System CMS, 16th ed. Chapter 15, Section 5-9

The Author-Date system is preferred in Physical, Natural and Social Sciences. To use the Author-Date system, you will need in-text parenthetical citations and a reference list.

Parenthetical Citations 15.20-30

Parenthetical citations appear after quoted and paraphrased material at the end of a sentence, clause, or quotation. You can cite quotations and paraphrases by providing author, editor or translator names (unless you mention these names in the sentence), publication year, and pages cited.

Freud uses analogy and metaphorical language because psychological processes cannot be observed directly (Spence 1990, 588).

Spence describes analogies as a psychological mechanism and rhetorical approach to “comprehend the unknown” (1990, 581).

If you are citing multiple sources, use semicolons to distinguish them. For sources with up to three authors, include each name. For sources with four or more authors, use only the first name, followed by et. al. When referencing an entire source, omit page numbers.

Persuasive writing is comparable to “identification,” in the Freudian sense of the term (Freud and Strachey 1965, 37; Davis et. al. 2008, 123; Burke 1969).

Reference List 15.10-19

A page titled “References” or “Works Cited” should provide complete reference information for every work cited in your text. Each piece of information in a reference is separated with a period. Entries are listed alphabetically by author names and formatted with hanging indentation: the first line of each entry is not indented; the following are.

Titles of books and long works are italicized; titles of articles and short works are set in quotes. Repeated names are represented by a three-em dash (2001a); repeated years with the same author must be distinguished by alphabetic note (2001b). Only the initial author’s name is inverted in entries with multiple authors.

Freud, Sigmund. 1980. On Dreams: The Standard Edition. New York: W. W. Norton & Company.

———. 2001a. “From Leonardo Da Vinci and a Memory of His Childhood.” In Freud and Freudians on Religion: A Reader, edited by Donald Capps, 25-31. London: Yale University.

———. 2001b. “Obsessive Actions and Religious Practices.” In Freud and Freudians on Religion: A Reader, edited by Donald Capps, 311-315. London: Yale University.

Hanly, Charles and Morris Lazerowitz, ed. 1970. Psychoanalysis and Philosophy. New York: International Universities Press.

University Writing Center

University of Denver • Anderson Academic Commons 280 • (303) 871-7456 • <http://duwriting.org/writing-center>

Works Cited

- book
15.9 | Burke, Kenneth. 1969. A Rhetoric of Motives. Berkeley: University of California Press.
- online article
15.9 | Davis, Diane. 2008. "Identification: Burke and Freud on who you are," Rhetoric Society Quarterly 38, no. 2: 123-147. Accessed June 27, 2011. doi: 10.1080/02773940701779785.
- website
Quick Guide | Freud Museum. "About the Museum." Accessed June 26, 2011.
<http://www.freud.org.uk/about/>.
- selection from longer work
15.9 | Freud, Sigmund. 2001. "Obsessive Actions and Religious Practices." In Freud and Freudians on Religion: A Reader, edited by Donald Capps, 311-315. London: Yale University.
- digital book
Quick Guide | Freud, Sigmund and William Strachey. Group Psychology and the Analysis of the Ego. Mundus publishing. Kindle edition. Accessed June 26, 2011.
- multi-authored book
15.9 | Hanly, Charles and Morris Lazerowits, ed. 1970. Psychoanalysis and Philosophy. New York: International Universities Press.
- blog or online entry
Quick Guide | Mahon, Eugene. 2011. "Sonnet for Sigmund Freud's Birthday." International Psychoanalysis (blog), May 5. <http://internationalpsychoanalysis.net/category/poetry>.
- journal article
15.9 | Spence, Donald. 1990. "The Rhetorical Voice of Psychoanalysis." Journal of the American Psychoanalytic Association 38, no. 8: 579-603.
- online multimedia
15.9 | Tufftywork. 2011. "Dora's First Dream." Freudblog, April 29.
<http://freudblog.blogspot.com/2011/04/doras-first-dream-fixed.html>.

University Writing Center

University of Denver • Anderson Academic Commons 280 • (303) 871-7456 • <http://duwriting.org/writing-center>