The University Writing Program invites students to submit work from WRIT courses (1122, 1622, 1133, 1633, or 1733) for our second annual COMPosium, a conference of student writing and research, to be held on Thursday May 15th from 5:30–7:00pm in the Anderson Academic Commons Special Events Space. We encourage students to display their work in multiple media. Possible examples include:

- Written projects
- Posters
- Videos
- Multimedia projects

Please email your individual, group, or class proposals of up to 75 words to LP Picard, lauren.picard@du.edu, by 6pm on Monday April 28th. Include the proposal as the text of your email.

Your proposal should indicate the following:

- If this is an individual, group, or class project (& all names of participating presenters)
- The topic of your project
- The course for which you completed the project
- The manner in which you will present the project (e.g. a poster, video, etc.)

In addition to the proposal, please indicate any technological needs you have for the presentation.

Deadline: Monday April 28th by 6PM
