

Writing the Range

Friday, November 14, 2014

Please Read for Research & Pedagogy Network Forum Instructions

10-11:30 am

Anderson Academic Commons 290

Thank you for participating in the RNF. Remember that you will be assigned to a table with a total of 4-5 participants and a facilitator. Time will be divided equally among presenters, so you will have about 5-8 minutes to introduce your assignment or research, including any questions you want others to address. Then you'll have about 8-10 minutes for the other participants to offer feedback.

You should prepare a handout with your name, contact information (email/phone/snail mail, etc.), a brief abstract of your project, and a list of your questions so that if someone thinks of something after your presentation, s/he can get the information to you later. This also allows you to network (our middle name).

---

Please Read for Afternoon Roundtable Participant Instructions

2-3:30pm

Anderson Academic Commons 284, 290, and 340

Thank you for participating in a roundtable next Friday. As you know, we will ask each of the 5-6 roundtable participants to speak for about 5 minutes on some facet of the overarching question. A generous period of Q and A that invites audience members into the conversation will follow. These roundtables will occur in a concurrent session to be held from 2:00-3:30pm. Your roundtable will also have a facilitator who will keep time.