

Schedule of Events
Writing the Range | November 14, 2014

- 9:30 – 10:00 Registration and Welcome
- 10:00 – 11:30 Research/Pedagogy Network Forum (Tables 1-7 in AAC 290, Tables 8-9 in AAC 340)
 *For directions on how to prepare, please consult Forum Instructions. Participants will meet in facilitated tables of 4-5 to discuss works-in-progress.
- 11:30 – 12:00 Break and Student Publication Exhibit (AAC 284)
- 12:00 – 1:30 Keynote Address and Lunch
 Scott Wible, University of Maryland : "Local Designs: Teaching Innovative Problem-Solving in the Professional Writing Course"
- 1:30 – 2:00 Break and Student Publication Exhibit (AAC 284)
- 2:00 – 3:30 Concurrent Roundtable Sessions
 *For directions on how to prepare, please consult Roundtable Instructions.
- #1. "What Does it Mean to Write for the Public Good?" (AAC 290)
 Eric Leake, Texas State University
 Melissa Theesen, Children's Future International
 Liz Drogin, University of Denver
 Brandon Blew, America SCORES Denver
 Megan Kelly, University of Denver
 Chad King, University of Denver
- #2. "What Should be the Nature of First-Year Writing and its Relationship to Larger Curricula?" (AAC 340)
 Doug Hesse, University of Denver
 Steve Lamos, University of Colorado Boulder
 Ann Amicucci, University of Colorado Colorado Springs
 Tracy Santa, Colorado College
 Michelle Comstock, University of Colorado Denver
- #3. "What Roles Can Alternative Sites of Writing and Research Play in College Writing?" (AAC 284)
 Sarah Sloane, Colorado State University
 John-Michael Rivera, University of Colorado Boulder
 Nicole Piasecki, University of Colorado Denver
 Miranda Egger, University of Colorado Denver
 Danizete Martinez, University of New Mexico-Valencia Campus
 Gary Walker, Pikes Peak Community College
- 3:30 – 3:45 Coffee and Snack Break (AAC 290)
- 3:45 – 5:00 Keynote Address (AAC 290)
 Jessica Enoch, University of Maryland : "Undergraduate Research 2.0: Rhetorical Literacies for the Digital Archive"